BICKERS CASE RESULTED IN ACQUITTAL.

Peremptory Instructions By Court for Lack of Evidence.

HOLLOWAY CASE TRIED.

W. F. Jones Cleared of the Charge of Shooting Walter Bowling.

In the case of the commonwealth against W. H. Bickers, called Thursday, the commonwealth introduced its proof and failed utterly to connect the said Bickers with the attempt to burn his store, which was partially destroyed by fire on the night of Feb. 6 last. The evidence showed that there was a fire and that there was some mystery surrounding it, as is usual in a majority of fires, but the only evidence in regard to Bickers at all in connection with said fire, was that of officer Booth Morris, who went after him and found him at home with his family, and notified him that his store was in flames, when Bickers went to see about it as quickly as possible. At the conclusion of the evidence for the commonwealth the defense moved for peremptory instructions to acquit Bickers, upon the ground of no evidence against him. The motion was sustained by the court and Bickers was found not guilty by the jury. Mr. Bickers was represented by Judges Bush and Hanbery.

John Feland, attorney for Jim Holloway, col., charged with murder of Andrew Bradshaw, another negro, near Old Bellevue in 1879, filed a demurrer to the indictment, on the ground that it was not properly drawn, and the court overruled the demurrer.

Holloway was placed on trial yesterday morning. Mack Ricketts, Joe Winroe and John Chappell, col., and Esq. H. B. Clark, Albert Cox and Herbert Cox were the witnesses. The last named two were small children in August 1879, when Holloway killed Andrew Bradshaw. The evidence was that Bradshaw, who was 6½ feet high, threatened to remove Holloway from his path at a colored picnic, in a jocular way, being unarmed, and that Holloway drew a pistol and shot him fatally. Holloway testified that Bradshaw was not jesting, but was flourishing a knife. His evidence was not corroborated. The case was briefly argued by John Feland for the defendant and by Commonwealth's Attorney Smith. It was submitted at noon. No verdict had been returned at three o'clock.

Jacob Hess was tried on an indictment charging him with an affray and found not guilty.

The case of W. F. Jones, of near Crofton, charged with shooting and wounding Walter Bowling, of the same neighborhood, was called Wednesday and went to the jury Thursday morning. A verdict of acquittal was returned.

SUMMER VACATION

Taken by The Athenaeum—Dr. Blakey's Paper.

The Athenaeum held its June meeting Thursday night at Hotel Latham, with 18 members present. Dr. T. W. Blakey read an interesting historical and scientific paper on "The American Aborigines." It was the only paper of the evening and after the usual discussion, the club adjourned to meet the first Thursday in September. Messrs. F. L. Wilkinson, John Stites and T. C. Underwood are on the program for the next meeting.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WELL UNDER WAY.

American Ambassador Has Held an Interview With The Czar.

PRESSURE ON JAPAN.

Prospects Are Brightening And President Roosevelt Is Very Hopeful.

Washington, June 9.—The Czar has at last been heard from here and the result is not unfavorable to peace. In his recent audience with Mr. Meyer, the American Ambassador, the Czar indicated a willingness to take under advisement the subject of peace and expressed a warm appreciation of the friendly words of Mr. Meyer, speaking as the personal envoy of the President.

Hoping For British Aid. Strong hopes were entertained here in the highest circles that London could be relied on for active assistance in counseling moderation to Japan. These people have not yet realized, although information has been received that Great Britain will welcome peace. It is hoped, however, that some assistance from that quarter may yet be forthcoming. Berlin and Paris are both giving loyal assistance to the efforts initiated in Washington and the result of Bepin's activity is already felt.

British and American influences are chiefly relied on to move Japan now that Count Lamoroff and M. Witte have made the preliminary approaches.

Diplomats hold the view that Tokio would prefer to continue the war until Vladivostok is taken and all that territory up to lake Balkal is under Japanese control. The diplomats also believe that Tokio will hesitate to lay down terms until it is clear that Emperor Nicholas is willing to treat for peace.

LAW NOT ENFORCED.

Stock Ordinance Will be Construed Liberally Until Generally Known.

The eight cows impounded Wednesday, under the stock law which went into effect Tuesday, were turned over to their owners without the fine being imposed. The reason of this was that the authorities thought this law was not generally known.

Yesterday notice of the passage of the law was printed in hand bill form and thrown into the yards throughout the city, and hereafter all cows and other stock found running at large will be taken in charge by the police.

There has been a great deal of talk of application being made to the circuit court for an injunction restraining the city from enforcing the ordinance published last Tuesday. The application had not been filed at motion hour yesterday morning.

Magistrates Meet.

Pursuant to a call of the county judge, the magistrates of the county met yesterday morning for a brief session. The only business before them was to consider the building of iron bridges at West Fork, Sinking Fork and at Dixon's old mill. The cost of the three will aggregate $1,800. The court decided to have them erected at once.

Water Works for Elkton.

T. W. Morris, Superintendent of the Hopkinsville Light and Water System, and Contractor Dalton, of that city, were here Wednesday and with Mayor Denny inspected the various sites for the water supply and stand pipe of the proposed water works system for Elkton, Times.

LAWN FETE Will be Given by D. A. R. Chapter June 16th.

A novel and attractive entertainment in the form of a Lawn Fete and a Exhibit will be given by the Col. John Green Chapter of the D. A. R., on the beautiful lawn and veranda of Mrs. C. H. Deitrich on Friday afternoon from four to six o'clock and in the evening from eight to eleven o'clock, June 16.

Refreshments will be served and a pleasant time is promised for both old and young. Admission 25c. Fortune telling in a gipsy tent will be one of the most pleasing features. Have your future told for the small sum of 5 cents. The proceeds of this entertainment will go towards the continental Memorial Hall that the "Daughters" are building in Washington City. This spacious marble hall is intended as an expression of the patriotism, the devotion and the efforts of the thousands of "Daughters" scattered throughout the land. It is not alone erected to the mighty statesmen and immortal Generals of the Revolutionary epoch, but to all the men of the line and all the women of the spinning wheel. Each Chapter throughout the United States has contributed towards this Hall and the Col. John Green Chapter wishes to have a share however small in this mighty project. The Kentucky Daughters have pledged themselves to put a bust in the Hall of the first Gov. of Kentucky, Isaac Shelby.

The public is cordially invited to this night entertainment and a most pleasant time is promised to all.

DEATH OF DR. TURNER.

Was the Father of Mrs. D. W. Kitchen, of This Place.

Mr. D. W. Kitchen received a telegram from Mrs. Kitchen yesterday morning stating that her father, Dr. R. G. Turner, died Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Kitchen left Wednesday in reply to a telegram which announced his serious illness and the probability of his dying before she could reach his bedside. Mrs. Kitchen reached Houston Thursday morning and was with her father a few hours before his death. Dr. Turner was a prominent physician of Houston, Texas, and was about sixty-three years of age. His death was due to an attack of grip several months since, from which he never fully recovered. Mrs. Kitchen has the deepest sympathy of her many friends here in her bereavement.

Arguments were commenced at Mayesville Thursday for and against the removal of the case of Caleb Powers, under death sentence for alleged complicity in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, from the Scott county circuit court to the United States district court. Both sides agreed to the holding of a night session so as to close the case as speedily as possible.

The separation of Norway and Sweden is not surprising. They are separate nations, speaking different languages, and have but little in common. Sweden has had the seat of government and Norway has a king that she would like to have. As Europe is full of princes without thrones, it will be an easy matter to set up a royal establishment.

The sale to the Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis, just reported, of the famous plot of real estate at 1 Wall street, at the corner of Broadway, has given rise to interesting compilations showing the great rise in property values in New York. At the figure named in the transaction, $700,000, the plot brought $4 a square inch, possibly the highest price ever paid in the world's history. The property measures only thirty feet on the Broadway side and has a frontage on Wall street of thirty-nine foot ten inches. It contains 1,170 square feet.

GREAT STRIDES

Made in the Manufacture of Slag Cement.

The industry of cement manufacturing from slag in the United States has made great strides in the past ten years, until today the cement made is far superior to the imported article. This is largely due to the perseverance of one man. Starting with only second-hand information as to what had been done already, he began experiments which for years seemed only to pre-arrange defeat, but the cause of one fault after another was discovered and eliminated until today the cement compares favorably with the best brands of Portland cement for at least 90 per cent. of all the work in which cement is used.

A business as well as a man can be more injured by free friends than by all the enemies that can be gathered. When the slag cement industry was in its infancy, some few mills were started by those who could only see enticing profits, but who neither understood the proper requirements for the raw material nor the proper manipulation of it. As a consequence, a product was manufactured which should never have been put on the market at all. Some of it was sold to the government for Louisiana work as "Portland cement" and it failed to fulfill the requirements. It was rejected, and it was condemned by the government. This was a blow it took several years to recover from.

On Dec. 17, 1900, a commission was appointed by the chief of engineers of the U. S. army, approved by the Secretary of War, to draw up specifications and rules to govern the use of all kinds of cement for work under the War Department's supervision. A report was made June 6, 1901, and a most excellent and thorough report it proved to be. It set a high standard for all cements, and is considered standard today for all government and state work. It withdraws the condemnation the engineer of the Louisiana made and frankly admits slag cement for government work under certain conditions.

Aside from general specifications which are the same for slag and Portland cements, the following requirements are given:

1. That it shall be branded "Puzzolan."
2. That it shall weigh at least 3 3/4 pounds per barrel.
3. That it shall be ground to such a fineness that 95 per cent. shall pass through a 100 mesh sieve.
4. That the specific gravity shall be between 2.7 and 2.8.
5. That the initial set shall not be less than 45 minutes and the final set not over 10 hours.
6. That the tensile strength shall be 350 lbs. in 7 days, and 500 lbs. in 28 days, and a briquette made of 1 part cement and 3 of sand shall develop a tensile strength of 140 lbs. in 7 days, and 220 lbs. in 28 days.

BIG BOAT SINKS.

W. W. O'Neil Goes Down At Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—The steamer W. W. O'Neil, the big boat of the Monongahela Coal Company, which recently passed Paducah on the way up from New Orleans with a tow of empties, sank yesterday morning at the foot of Eighth street. The boat struck some obstruction, which tore a ten-foot hole in her hull and she settled in ten feet of mud and water. The crew was not in danger. The boat will be raised. The damage will be $5,000.

Drops Dead at Adairville.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 7.—Albert M. Covington dropped dead at Adairville, Ky., of heart failure. He was seventy-eight years old, and the night before he was in his usual health. A few minutes before he expired he arose and was dressing preparatory to visiting his daughter, at Guthrie, Ky. He was born and raised in Clarksville, leaving here several years ago to make his home with his son at Adairville. The remains will be brought here for interment.

Ankle Badly Sprained.

George Underwood, the oldest son of Mr. G. B. Underwood, was with a party of picnickers at Huffman's Mill Thursday and sustained a very painful sprain of an ankle by jumping from an elevation on to the rocks below the dam. His ankle is very much swollen and is giving him great pain. He will not be able to walk for several days.

KENNEDY NEWS.

Birthday Dinner Enjoyed On Banks of Creek.

Kennedy, Ky., June 7.—Ben Williams and Dick Barker's birthday coming on the same day of June, they celebrated it by giving a five o'clock dinner at Logan's mill, on the West-fork creek. It was a beautiful place on the bank of the creek, nearly a beautiful rippling stream of water that gushed forth from under a cliff of rocks, which furnished good water. After partaking of a most sumptuous meal of well barbecued lamb, ice cream, ambrosia and other good things, the young folks paired off and strolled up and down the bank of the creek. The lady guests were Misses Tommie Jackson, Kate Payton, Elizabeth Reese, Annie Cox, of Hopkinsville; Lizzie, Mary and Ellen Cloud, Sallie Bailey, of Armistead, Tenn.; Bet Allen, Katie Stephens, Alene Smith, Lady Boone, Alice Moore, Viola Lunderman, Patie McElwaine, of Trenton; Nancy Logan, Mary Allen, Kate Bradshaw and Mrs. Jesse Evans, chaperoned by Mrs. Nellie Reese and Mrs. Dr. Allen. There were about the same number of young gentlemen present. Ben and Dick say that they are just old enough now to marry. Ben says his birthday is getting to be monotonous. There was enough to eat left to have fed as many more people as were present.

Miss Sarah Rollow returned from Nashville a few days ago, where she had been visiting.

Miss Kate Bradshaw is visiting Mrs. Dr. Rollow.

F. A. Jones and family and Misses Allene Smith, Bet Allen and Lady Boone returned Sunday, after visiting Brad Martin, of Dotsonville, several days last week.

Sarah Gordon Buckner, who had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Green, for several weeks, returned to Hopkinsville Saturday.

Miss Mary Bayham is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. M. A. Meacham, at Gracey.

Misses Sallie Bayham and Maybelle Hill have returned home, after several weeks' visit to R. T. Bayham, of Providence, Ky. They were accompanied home by Miss Ruth Bayham, who will spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. J. T. Hill.

Mr. William Parks and Miss Mary Morris, both of near Elmo, went over to Clarksville to-day and were married.

Some of the farmers of this neighborhood will begin cutting wheat to-morrow. There is a good deal of complaint about the scab being on the wheat. It is mere speculation as to what the yield will be, probably not more than two-thirds of a full crop.

Worms Don't Like It.

Everybody knows that cabbage growing is never a success here on account of the ravages of the worm. A gentleman who had perfect success last year, says if, after the worms begin to show their work, you will heap dry dust on the top of the cabbage, and keep it that way, that the worms will leave in disgust and you can have as good cabbage as can be raised anywhere. Try it.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

A contest of the American and British champions to show who was the better pugilist.

Jefferson.

The public knows what he can do, and expects him to live up to his reputation. When Jack Dempsey was matched against Bob Fitzsimmons everybody who thought that he knew anything about the game concluded that Dempsey had an ironclad claim on the result, and figured that the Cornishman was in for a severe thrashing. But Dempsey was whipped just the same, and by a man who it was thought had not the slightest chance of victory. So great a hold did John L. Sullivan upon the affections of the public that when he was matched against Jim Corbett for the heavyweight title in 1892 the large majority of the sports refused to look upon the young hank clerk from California in any other light than as a sucker. The same thing was illustrated in the case of Jim Corbett against Bob Fitzsimmons at Carson City, in 1897. It was admitted that Fitz was a great fighter and all that, but he was a man of Corbett's known cleverness and reputation was thought to be impossible, especially by a man like Fitz, who had the word of the bargain in point of weight. But again the "dark horse" triumphed. After that mill the Cornishman was regarded as invincible by every one who thought he knew how to size up a real mill pugilist. But his turn came when he tackled Jim Jeffries at Coney Island, in 1899. Dark horses have upset calculations among the little men, too. After Terry McGovern's winning streak, and especially so after he had conquered at San Francisco, George Dixon in a manner to convince the critics of his greatness, it was whispered all along the line that he could not lose. So when Terry was matched to meet Young Corbett, McGovern's friends were laughing in their sleeves and were figuring upon just how they would spend their money. The following is a reminder of the outcome of that mill pretty well. Terry was put to sleep in just two rounds, and by a man of whom little was really known in the case. McGovern's friends thought that their man had been whipped by a chance blow, so another match was arranged. This time the affair took place at San Francisco, and the result was the same. Young Corbett's recent defeats by Jimmy Britt and Charlie Holman were instances of the talent going wrong again. Joe Bowler proved to be a good dark horse when he defeated Frankie Neil recently in England. So did Paddy Palmer who was fought Billy Plimmer the first time and repeated the dose later on. Terry McGovern surprised the fight sharpsharps when he conquered Paddy Palmer at Tucson, N. Y., as did Kid Lavigne when he went abroad and dethroned England's pride among the lightweights. This list will be increased as time goes on and dark horses are certain to figure in ring history, in nine cases out of ten the man who bets on the favorite in a fight will come out a winner in the end.

Football plans are being laid out most of the leading eastern and western colleges, and the coming stars of the gridiron are receiving their spring training.

Yost, at Michigan, is planning to develop punters and handle of kicks. It is expected that the Michigan team will force a radical change in football rules, leading more to the "open play," and for that reason will try to get good men to punt, which will be an essential feature of a modification of the rules. Only a few men are doing anything at Princeton and Harvard as practice in the east is mainly for the purpose of getting a line on material in the universities not hitherto dealt with. Princeton wants some heavy men in the coming freshman class. It is unlikely that Michigan will get a game in the east this year. The intercollegiate football rules committee, composed of Paul Dashiell, chairman, United States naval academy; Walter Camp, Yale; L. M. Dennis, Cornell; John C. Bell, University of Pennsylvania; Robert D. Wrenn, Harvard; John B. Fine, Princeton, and A. Stagg, University of Chicago, held a preliminary meeting recently at the Racquet club in New York City.

Alone, without food, or place to rest, a bird belonging to the Mishawaka (Ind.) Homing Pigeon club will be required to make a flight across the Atlantic from Belgium to this city. The carrier has been shipped and the captain of the steamer carrying the aerial racer will release the pigeon immediately upon reaching port, then notifying the local organization by cable regarding time of liberation. It is predicted by pigeon fanciers that the flight will be successful, although never before attempted by American bird owners.

R. W. Walden, a prominent turfman and breeder, aged 75 years, is dead at his home, Bowling Brook Farm, near Middletown, Md. He had been identified with the turf since a boy, and was a breeder of many great horses that have won some of the biggest stakes in this country. He was a director of the Maryland Jockey club.

Norwegians Tired of The Double Barreled
Arrangement.

ADDRESS TO KING OSCAR

Declares Good Feeling and Asks for Bernadotte Prince to be King.

Christiana, Norway, June 9.

The Storting, Norwegian parliament, Wednesday declared the union between Norway and Sweden under one king to be dissolved, and that the king of Sweden has ceased to act as king of Norway. The Storting further empowered the present state council to act as the government of Norway until further notice and to exercise the powers heretofore appertaining to the king.

An address to King Oscar was adopted, declaring that no ill feeling is entertained against him, his dynasty or the Swedish nation and asking him to co-operate in the selection of a young prince of the house of Bernadotte to occupy the throne of Norway.

King Oscar has sent a telegram to Premier Michelson, of Norway as follows:

"Have received the communication of the council of state and I record a most decided protest against the method and the action of the government."

Some curious remarks are some-was heard to whisper to her sister:

"Don't get one of Miss Bradstone's books. We will want to read it, and we shall have to wash up the supper things." In another case a boy went boldly up to the counter and said:

"Book, please anything will do: It's for father,"—Westminster Gazette.

A DUEL IN THE DARK

"That reminds me," said the man who had spent some time in the south, "of a man I met in down in Kentucky some years ago."

"Tell me," cried the crowd—hands were running poorly anyway—and after some little persuasion he told his story.

In our party for some time there in the horse country where Jim Pettigill and Mr. J. Tomlinson Jones. When I told you that Jim Pettigill was always "Jim" to the crowd, and that Tomlin-son Jones was always Mr. Jones, you will know as much about the respective characters of the two men as could be told in a book. In addition to that I might say that Jim in one respect was like the city of Washington—made up of magnificent figures.

"We were having a small little Friday night affair, and Jim, as on one or two previous occasions, was raking in the dice of various colors with regularity too frequent to be tedious to the rest of us. As the game went on this fact seemed to be getting on Mr. Jones' nerves, because it was not plain to him how he, J. Tomlinson Jones, could lose. His manner became offensive, and finally, when it was Jim's deal and he handed himself as fine a set of not-forties as ever bore the royal faces of king, queen and jack, preceded by the ace, Mr. Jones exploded.

"In his best J. Tomlinson Jones manner, I do not care to continue longer in this game. I am accustomed to playing with gentlemen, not with a fellow like you."

"Well, the bush that fell on that crowd was so deep you could hear it.
For a second no one breathed. Then Jim elevated himself to the limit of his feet—two, seized the struggling hundred-and-forty-seven pounds of Jones and dropped it out of the window.
We heard a muffled, slinking thud, and then all was still."

"Of course that broke up the game.
We all knew Jim was square, but after such an unusual occurrence we did not feel like playing any more that night. I do not realize, though what a fine thing Mr. Jones' self esteem was until the next morning, when Jim sent for me."

"John," he said, "that Jones person has challenged me to a duel. I want you to be my second."

"Of course I was willing to be in. Jim and I talked the matter over, and finally decided upon a plan which we thought would make this bit of business the history of the night. Dark in the moonshine district was a small hut we had run around some summer that we were approaching near to Jones' heart. The duel was arranged to take place in this hut at midnight. The principals were to fight in the dark, entering the hut separately, drawing lots to first chances. The first man in was to begin firing as soon as the second man entered. Pistols were the weapons Jim selected. I advised shotguns loaded with bird shot, but Jim wouldn't have it. I think Jim expected J. Tomlinson to back out when he heard the conditions, but J. T. stuck like a man."

"Two nights later our little death party was gathered in front of this tumbledown hut in the heart of a Kentucky wilderness. Our duty to our patrons and the predictions of a patient medicine man, the moon was shining like a million candle power and light, under the stars, the man who entered the hut first would have such a hunch on the second man that it might be considered that his goose was cooked. They drew lots and Jones won.
With a confident smile which the pale moonbeams distorted into a ghastly grim grin Mr. Jones received his revolver from the surgeon and entered the hut closing the door after him. I looked at Jim anxiously, but he appeared cool and calm. Jim received his pistol and the rest of us fell back to a safe distance.
He walked to the hut, took one last look at the moon-silvered landscape and opened the door. There was an in-fantesimal period of silence broken only by the violent beating of our hearts, and then six shots rang out in rapid succession.

"I turned away, not having the courage to look at poor Jim's bullet-riddled coat, but, hearing a groan from J. T., I second, I ventured to look toward the hut. The door, gentlemen, was closed and Jim was inside. Then we heard three shots, followed almost immediately by the most blood-curdling, lost soul, human agony shrieks I ever heard.
Headed by the doctor with his lantern, we rushed into the hut. Near the fireplace stood Jim, gasping sadly at the writching form of King Oscar."

"I didn't want to hurt him," said Jim to me, "so I walked straight across the room and fired my shots up the chandelier. But," continued Jim, "that's where Mr. Jones was."

"Well, J. Tomlinson Jones recovered finally, but it was a long time before he was able to take his meals like a gentleman—for reasons."—N. Y. Sun.

The Hopkinsville team returned home from Cairo last night. The Henderson club also arrived here last night. Henderson and Hopkinsville will play on the local diamond this afternoon, the game will be called promptly at 3:45.

Hopkinsville was victorious at Cairo Thursday, winning the game by the score of 2 to 1. Desmond the new man who joined the Browns at Paducah and had been playing center field during the latter's indisposition, was in the box and pitched a great game for Hopkinsville, allowing the Egyptians only one hit.
Schum was behind the battery for the Browns. Hopkinsville got five hits off Wagner, Cairo's twirler.
The Browns played a brilliant game, putting up masterly team work. Our boys had only three errors charged up to them.

It took eleven innings to settle the contest at Cairo Wednesday between Hopkinsville and Cairo. Neither side was able to score in the nine innings and the tenth was likewise barren of tallies. In the eleventh Larsen worked his way to third base and came over the home plate on Pettit's Tanager leaguer. Perdue and Rutledge composed the battery for Hopkinsville and Holycross and Pettit for the Egyptians. The twirlers were at their very best and the contest was a hard fought pitcher's battle—but the Browns lost, the score being 1 to 0.

Thursday's game at Princeton between Vincennes and the Infants was hotly contested and resulted in a score of 2 to 1 in favor of Vincennes.

The game at Paducah Thursday between Henderson and the Indians was won by the Hens, the score being 4 to 2.

The game between Princeton and Vincennes, played at Princeton Wednesday, resulted in a shut out for the Infants, Vincennes winning by the score of 6 to 0.

Henderson won from Paducah in the game played Wednesday, at Paducah. The score was 6 to 3. Morgan and Schissel and Frakes and Lands were the opposing batteries.

CHAT OFF THE BAT.

Vincennes went head yesterday.

Paducah is knocking on Umpire Zinkins.

Taylor, the outfielder and pitcher, whom Ray had traded to Henderson for Mullen, has been released by Princeton.—Henderson Gleaner.

Fruit Hill and Haley's Mill have organized base ball clubs. They are practicing every day and Hopkin-ville may expect a challenge any time.

The Hopkinsville bunch plays excellent ball and ought to be enticed to a better position in the standing list than they now occupy. And the chances are they will have one before many more moons elapse. They are fast and full of ginger and will positively create room for themselves at the top of the column if they can keep up the present gait.—Cairo Bulletin.

It is up to President Brown to make Paducah and Vincennes come within the salary limit. You can't hire Platts, Gilligan, McCains and others on an $800 basis.—Henderson Gleaner.

Mullen, of Hopkinsville, will join Henderson at Hoptown Saturday, says the Henderson Gleaner. The two teams will play a double header at Hopkinsville Saturday, and as Sunday ball is not allowed in that city the Sunday game will be transferred to Henderson—Paducah Register.

"Pete" Browning, the once famous ball player who was with the Hopkinsville team for several games about ten or twelve years ago, was adjudged of unound mind in the Louisville criminal court this week and will be sent to an asylum. His insanity is said to be due to softening of the brain and it is thought that he can live but a short while."

Another thing out of the ordinary accomplished by Henderson Friday was the putting of a ball out of our park for the first time

About 50 or 60 Elks had a day's outing yesterday. It was at first arranged to have the picnic near West Fork, on the T. They had a magnificent time.

WANT TO PICNIC.

Baptist Sunday School at Sebree Wants to Come Here.

A prominent business man received a letter from a friend at Sebree this week saying that the Baptist Sunday School of that place wanted to bring a picnic party to Hopkinsville, if suitable grounds could be secured. He wrote him that arrangements could be made without any trouble.

Presbyterian Picnic.

The officers, teachers and children of the Ninth Street Presbyterian Sunday School went to Fleming's cave Thursday for a picnic. A most enjoyable time was had in games of different kinds and following the course of the entrance of the cave.

Children's Day.

Next Sunday will be "Children's Day" at the First Presbyterian church. The public is cordially invited.
